Sales Tax - Wage Withholding Account

Is a Wage Withholding license required for a business with a sales tax license that also has employees?

There is no actual license or fee for a wage withholding account. Businesses applying for a sales tax license that know they will have employees should apply for the wage withholding account number the same time they apply for the sales tax license on form CR/0100/"Colorado Business Registration" -- this will also ensure that the sales tax license number and the wage withholding account number are the same. (See also "Withholding Tax Index").